CRITICAL CONVERSATIONS

GETTING POSITIVE OUTCOMES FROM TRICKY SITUATIONS

"A true partnership has been developed with edoMidas over a number of years. As a result, we have benefited from tailored development solutions well aligned to our business needs, culture and values. The edoMidas team create a supportive learning environment where delegates don't just learn the theory but are actively encouraged to put their learning into practice. Delegate feedback is strong and our people are eager to attend the workshops."

ARE THERE CONVERSATIONS THAT FILL YOU WITH DREAD?

If the answer is yes, you have a lot in common with the rest of the world. Most of us dread the thought of giving sensitive feedback, tackling a performance issue or dealing with conflict.

They are usually the kind of conversations that quickly become charged and uncomfortable, leading us to avoid them and hope the issues will resolve themselves. Yet in most cases they simply get worse if left, leading to increased tension, under-performance or even the breakdown of relationships. We call them critical conversations.

GETTING A POSITIVE OUTCOME

The edoMidas 'Critical Conversations' programme gives you the tools necessary to handle the challenge. Using high impact strategies and techniques, you develop the skills that will enable you to tackle difficult conversations with confidence and achieve a positive result.

THIS PROGRAMME GIVES YOU:

- Techniques to give sensitive feedback
- Practice scenarios to build skill and confidence
- Tools to focus difficult conversations on a positive outcome
- Insight into your own communication styles
- Practical skills to respond to different people and communication styles
- A framework to keep critical conversations focused and effective
- The skills to handle conflict effectively

“edoMidas rapidly grasped the key aspects of our culture and designed their interventions accordingly. They created a strong impression and provided engaging and thought-provoking training.”

GETTING EVERYONE ON YOUR WAVELENGTH

STRATEGIC INFLUENCING

THE POWER OF INFLUENCING

Every organisation depends on great ideas: the next big project, a new direction, a fresh goal to be achieved. For the most part these ideas require some kind of collaboration to become reality. They rely on support to reach fruition.

No matter how great your idea is, no matter how robust your proposal or opinion, you cannot be certain that others will share your vision. Indeed, getting things done with the help of others almost always involves a degree of discussion. Points of view may differ. Competing agendas may clash.

Influencing skills allow you to build good relationships, respond to a variety of communication styles, and handle objections. These skills are becoming increasingly important where organisational structures are flatter and individuals are required to work in project teams with no direct lines of authority.

Developing strong influencing skills is vital if you want to get results in business.

WITH STRATEGIC INFLUENCING YOU WILL BE ABLE TO:

- Learn different influencing styles
- Choose the most appropriate style to meet your objective
- Put your natural communication style to best use
- Respond appropriately to other communication styles
- Secure support and collaboration from key stakeholders
- Gain commitment rather than compliance
- Communicate persuasively and influence upwards
- Manage objections and overcome resistance

PRESENTING TO WIN OVER YOUR AUDIENCE

MAKING IT STICK

ENGAGE YOUR AUDIENCE

edoMidas' advanced presentation skills will ensure you give engaging presentations, bringing even the most technical and complex subject matters to life for your audience.

If part of your job requires you to inform or influence your audience, it is critical you present your information in a way that is both interesting and memorable. Research shows that unless you use the right structure and tools to capture and hold an audience's attention, they quickly lose focus and miss your key points. That's why it is vital to get it right.

CAN YOU MAKE IT STICK?

Contrary to common belief, presenting well is not simply about delivering a confident performance. If you want to deliver high-impact, audience-focused presentations, you need to know how to identify your key messages and structure your content for maximum impact.

Whether your objective is to speak at a conference, lead a seminar or improve your confidence and impact as a presenter, this approach gives you the best tools and techniques available.

As a result of the edoMidas workshop, you will be able to deliver your presentations in a confident, convincing and memorable way. Working with your inherent strengths and communication style, we help you develop your own personal brand that ensures you come across as influential, conversational and natural.

THIS PROGRAMME WILL HELP YOU:

- Make informative presentations more interesting
- Get buy-in when the purpose of your presentation is to persuade
- Grab and keep your audience's attention
- Make your content credible, relevant and memorable
- Present with impact
- Handle audience reactions effectively

PRESENTING WITH CONFIDENCE

People may be in jobs they love, and are still panicked at the prospect of having to deliver a presentation. For many people this is the most stressful situation imaginable in business. Critical occasions are conferences, team events, induction presentations and client reporting.

CRITICAL WRITING

WORDS REALLY MATTER

HOW YOU WRITE REALLY MATTERS

If you write to communicate business-critical information to important stakeholders, clients, colleagues and your people, how you write matters. When important decisions rest on being understood quickly by your readers, you shouldn't leave it to chance.

Our experience and research shows that many readers stop reading most text early, miss the key point or, worst of all, take away a completely different message than the writer intended.

CRAFT YOUR WORDS

This training programme offers you practical and straightforward development to write analyst, management or business reports that give you the best chance of getting your message across, based on proven, research-based methodologies.

"Good communication is one of those things that only works when people come across as being themselves, get to the point and tell it well. I always enjoy working with edoMidas, they spend time getting to know the strengths of each team member and bring out the best in them. They teach simple-to-follow processes and bring a been-there-and-done-that pragmatism to workshops that help people write and present better."

Transformation Director
Clydesdale & Yorkshire Bank

THE EDOMIDAS CRITICAL WRITING PROGRAMME WILL HELP YOU:

- Think critically and objectively about your message and intended outcomes
- Ensure your readers take away the message you intend
- Structure your writing effectively to ensure readers engage with your message
- Write materials that can be quickly understood and believed
- Be clearer and more concise
- Cut out wordiness
- Be easily remembered
